

Hawaiian Lullaby

Where I live, there are rainbows with life in the laughter of morning and starry nights.

Where I live, there are rainbows
and flowers full of colors
and birds filled with song.
I can smile when it's raining
and touch the warmth of the sun.
I hear children laughing in this place that I love.

Where I live, there are rainbows
and flowers full of colors
and birds filled with song.
I can smile when it's raining
and touch the warmth of the sun.
I hear children laughing in this place that I love.

Ideals that surround us from our Indian heritage Have been captured by tribes' spirit and the love at Wawenock

Chorus: And above me is the bluebird Soaring high and soaring free
As the symbol of Owaissa
To inspire you and me.

As the years pass and the times change,
we remember Wawenock
The traditions of our campfires stay to guide us evermore.
Pride in those around us and the goals which we attain
Will be shared with other people, and remain to honor camp.
(Chorus)
